KENTUCKY NEWS NOTES.

Versailles boasts of a prodigy in thirteen-year-old negro boy who is an expert telegraph operator. Jack Tilford is his name, and he "learned the keys" last winter on his own hook while acting as messenger boy for the local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company. He receives and sends difficult messages of great length, with the speed and accuracy of an experienced operator. He is a great curiosity to telegraph men.

Mr. HAY, the present ambassador of the United States to Great Britain, is to succeed Secretary of State. It is a happy selection. Mr. Hay's experience in affairs of State goes back thirty-seven years when he was made a member of President Lincoln's official household.

LIEUTENANT RICHMOND PEARSON HUNSON has attained all sorts of fame and notoriety, the range of which is astounding. From the seventh heaven of being honored by the kiss of a beautiful girl in New York—to what! He has been endorsed by a mass county convention of Populists in Indiana as a candidate for President in 1900.

The Ohio Democrats in State Convention assembled recently declared their allegiance to the Chicago platform, particularly the financial plank, and declaring for the "unlimited" at "16 to 1." In New York where the Democrats were so heavily defeated, the leaders are trying to evade the silver question, which ruined the party in 1896. The policy of the Democratic party seems unsettled and uncertain.

Gen. SHAFFER highly compliments the volunteer forces in his command at Santiago, but he says "Our volunteers lacked that unity, cohesion and individual support noticeable in our trained troops" but "what they lacked otherwise they made up by enthusiasm and patriotic spirit, and I desire to command no better army than one composed of the class of volunteers under me at Santiago."

JUDGE DAY's reason for resigning the office of Secretary of State is good and simple. It is plainly, as he states, because his private fortune is small and inadequate to meet the demands made upon him by his position. And the salary attached to the office cannot possibly pay the bills that must be made. He who occupies that high office must pay well for the honor. This is unjust and should be remedied.

The initial number of the Bowling Green Tribune reached us this week. It is an octavo, well printed full of local and general news and Republican in principle. Its utterance is clear, decisive and honest and its make-up shows veteran workmanship. We reach the journalistic paw to Brother Brown, and gladly put the Tribune upon our list and will give him "our" for "his" fifty-two times a year. "Here's to you," Brother Brown.

At a recent meeting in New York of the Woman's National War Relief Association, a call was made for more money for the relief of the sick soldiers at Montauk Point. A number of subscriptions were received, one from Mrs. Russell Sage, of fifty dollars. Miss Helen Gould gave twenty-five thousand dollars. The husband of Mrs. Sage is one of the richest men in the world, and he evidently intends to take his money with him and open up a bucket shop in the next world. What a power this man has to relieve distress in this world. Compare his life with that of Miss Helen Gould, one of the noblest of women, whose income is spent in relieving the poor, the suffering and the sorrowful.

Let Mr. Sage decide to leave his immense riches to Miss Gould, the sooner the better, and then will THE BEE print the finest obituary the office affords.

The Gold Supply.

In the last fourteen months the stock of American gold has increased $182,000,000. The addition includes $115,000,000 imported, a production of $60,000,000 and $72,000,000 from the Klondike. Probably not more than $12,000,000 has been used in the arts, leaving $170,000,000 for monetary uses. The world's business affairs are not likely to be impeded by an insufficient gold supply.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Political Points.

Sam Shackleford is preparing to take charge of the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals on the first Monday in September.

Court Judge Adair, of Hancock County, appointed last Monday a full set of election officers for his county to hold the election in November, ignoring the new election law. Judge Adair is a Republican. The Democrats will probably join Adair's appointees in Circuit Court.—Courier-Journal.

Will Go Alone.

Messrs. Jesse Phillips and Geo. Mothershead will leave early next week on an extended visit to the Mammoth Cave. They will go overland per vehicle and will be gone over a week. They will equip themselves fully with hunting and fishing tackle and have a good time bombarding squirrels and aluring the finny tribe. As they will camp early and sleep in the wagon, their friends hope they will escape venomous serpents, but as the unexpected always happens, they will no doubt adopt other precautionary measures to be used only in case of dire emergency. We comment for them a pleasant and a profitable expedition.

TWO CANDIDATES

Nominated by Second District Republican Convention.

JOLLY CONVENTION FIRST, FOWLER CONVENTION HELD LATER.

BOTH ADOPT THE "LOG CABIN."

The Second district Republican convention held at Henderson, Monday, August 29th, was a stormy meeting and quite equal to any Democratic convention that has been held in the district.

The first thing that came before the convention after district chairman Vance called to order was the reports from the meeting of county chairmen, which he had held in the morning for the purpose of recommending to the convention a suitable man for temporary chairman of the convention.

There was a majority report, recommending Hon. James Breathitt for chairman, and a minority report, offered as a substitute by the chairmen of Hopkins and Webster, recommending Hon. W. E. Bourland for chairman. Chairman Vance did not recognize the report and its substitute, as offered from the floor of the house, but announced that he understood that both men mentioned had been placed in nomination for chairmanship and proceeded to take the vote by committees on both men at once. He had previously announced his decision to recognize the contested Fowler delegation from Daviess and allow them a voice in the preliminary organization. So, amid uproar, county chairman Towery, of Webster, insisted that the minority report should be put to a vote and made the call by counties. All contested delegations were left out and Bourland received sixty-eight votes from Henderson, Hopkins and Webster. Simultaneously Vance proceeded with his call and declared Breathitt elected, and he also took his seat as chairman.

Bourland appointed the following committee on credentials: Christian, J. M. Starling; Daviess, H. G. Overstreet; Hancock, Jno. S. Adair; Henderson, C. P. Harness; Hopkins, William Beard; McLean, Marshal Ashby; Union, Curtis Cromwell; Webster, T. T. Morris.

The committee retired and brought in the following report: "We the committee on credentials, beg to make the report as follows: Christian, no contest, 45 votes for Breathitt; Daviess, no contest, 31 votes for Bourland; Hancock, no contest, 10 votes for Bourland; Hopkins, no contest, 28 votes for Bourland; McLean, no contest, 9 votes for Breathitt; Webster, no contest, 15 votes for Bourland; Union, no votes."

T. T. Morris, Webster, Wm. Beard, Hopkins, C. E. Harness, Henderson, J. S. Adair, Hancock, H. G. Overstreet, Daviess.

The report was adopted and a motion carried making the temporary organization permanent. Chairman Bourland and others then occupied the time speaking, amid uproar, until the committee on resolutions brought in their report, which was as follows:

"Resolved by the Republican party of the Second Congressional District of Kentucky in convention assembled:

That we approve the platform of the Republican party of the United States adopted at St. Louis, and that we condemn as subversive of Democratic government the Act of the last General Assembly known as the "Goebel Bill."

That we favor the acquisition of the Philippines Islands, Porto Rico, the annexation of Cuba, and approve of the annexation of the Sandwich Islands."

Hon. Geo. W. Jolly was then placed in nomination by R. W. Slack, of Owensboro, and the vote taken which resulted in the casting of 109 votes for Jolly, whereupon the chairman announced the Hon. Geo. W. Jolly the nominee of the convention as candidate for Congress in the Second Congressional District of Kentucky.

Mr. Jolly took the stand and made a brief and feeling speech in which he denounced the treatment he had received at the hands of the Federal office-holders in control of the party organization. He said all his friends had asked was a fair count of the vote in accordance with the will of the people, that this had been denied them and, refusing to be trampled upon, they had taken the action they had.

A motion carried "that this convention adopt the 'Log Cabin' as its device and that the name of Hon. George W. Jolly be placed under it as the Republican candidate for Congress in the Second Congressional District."

E. C. VANCE INVESTIGATED.

The following resolution, condemning District Chairman E. C. Vance, was introduced from Hancock county and read before the convention:

WHEREAS, the fact is well known to the Republic of Hancock county that Hon. E. C. Vance, a Federal office holder, towit: Deputy Post Master for his wife who is Post Master at Hawesville, Ky., has duly used his position and influence in causing strife in said party by openly and fraudulently working against the county nominees for county offices at last November election, and is now using his office and influence against one candidate for Congress against another in the same party; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, By this convention that the charges above made be investigated by the Henderson convention, by appointing a committee of three who will report, before the said convention shall have adjourned, and if said report shall be in the affirmative, said convention will take such action as the committee on investigation may recommend.

RESOLVED, That the delegates from this convention urge upon the convention at Henderson to take some action in this matter, as the Republicans of Hancock are opposed to being represented by such a man as said Vance has proven himself to be.

LINCOLN RICHARDSON, Chmn' V. M. MORSELEY, Sec'y.

The resolutions were adopted and a motion carried to appoint C. C. McAdams of Hancock, Henry Overstreet, Daviess; and Geo. H. Towery, Webster, a committee to investigate the charges made.

The committee adjourned and the convention adjourned.

and Otho Anderson, of Christian, placed Mr. W. T. Fowler in nomination. The call of counties was made and Fowler was declared the nominee with 122 votes, as follows:

Christian, 45; Daviess 31; Hancock, 10; McLean 9; Union 12; Webster 15.

Mr. Fowler spoke briefly accepting the nomination and promising to begin the campaign at once. He characterized the opposition as bolters and said the fight against him was a Democratic howl, which meant nothing.

The "Log Cabin" was adopted by this convention also as their device, and the convention adjourned.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

It is feared by operators of Illinois that the miners of that State will go on strike if a reduction is made in the mining rate to meet the Indiana scale.

Coal has struck at a depth of 700 feet at Bonner Springs, Kan. The seam is not very thick. Gas was struck at a depth of 1,100 feet and will be used for commercial purposes.

The miners at the Penny mine at Lincoln, Ind., which is operated by the Western Indiana Coal Co., are much dissatisfied with the result of the arbitration board making a lower rate. They have not gone on strike, as it was feared they would, however.

It is hardly probable that there will be a general strike in Illinois, but beyond question, the mining rate is to be something less than the Springfield scale, which shows that business necessity rises superior to the act of any convention.—Coal Trade Journal.

The Illinois Central Railroad Co. has awarded the contract for the supply of coal for its southern lines to the Southern Coal Co. of Corona, Walker County, Alabama. About 135,000 tons is required annually.

Graham Macfarlane, of Louisville, Ky., has given up the coal, iron and coke business in that city and has moved his headquarters to Chicago.

A plant has recently been completed at Welland, Ont., for the manufacture of fuel by compressing peat into blocks. It is being tested on the local railroad locomotives.

Fire is still smouldering in the hold of the British steamship Twickenham, which was captured as a prize by United States war ships and towed to Key West. She is loaded with coal from Barry, which was sent out to supply the Spanish war craft.

One would think from the many stories which are going about in regard to the shipment of American coal abroad that the business done was likely to be of considerable magnitude. It will last so long as the Welsh strike lasts, but hardly beyond that period. In this connection it is well to note that all the references to the use of this coal which is being supplied are not always based on fact.—Coal Trade Journal.

Many concessions for the development of coal in China are being made and it is interesting to note that American engineers are to be employed in the development.

Bids have been called for by the Navy Department at Washington for the construction of the proposed new coal station referred to were Mr. Salmon, Ben T. Robinson, C. U. Fox and M. F. Ward. The counties which responded to the call for committees were Daviess, Christian, Hancock, McLean and Union.

As usual during a run of coal down the Ohio, there are many losses of coal-laden barges. During the recent it is said that at least 100,000 bushels of coal, and the barges containing the same, were lost.

There is still some coal to be had at Cardiff, Wales, and it is said that the best steam coal realizes from $5.50 to $6.00 per ton, so that it is not to be wondered at that coal can be shipped from this side to foreign ports.

The story has been started that a certain firm "has an unlimited contract from the British Government for coaling stations all over the world," but the probabilities are that there is not a word of truth in this statement.

The President of the Empire Coal Company made that mine a visit last week and was much pleased to see his force mine and load nearly eight thousand bushels of coal on that day.

The Manufacturer's Record makes mention in its last issue of the erection, in the near future, of coke ovens by the Remmick Coal Company.

The South Diamond Mine was well represented at the fair on Miner's day. They came in large numbers.

Superintendent Critchfield took an active part in seeing that a fair start was made by the racers at the fair.

The exhibits made by the St. Bernard and Remmick Coal companies at the fair were greatly admired by the large crowds visiting their buildings.

Waiger Fegan spent two days last week at the fair and took quite an interest in the display of live stock. He was fortunate enough to capture the first premium in one ring.

The Empire Coal Company received on one day last week, orders for sixty cars of coal.

Mr. John Lafore is visiting Howard White. Howard is showing him the ins and outs of the mines here.

If course the fair was a success and it will always be so when you see both operators and miners take such an interest.

Expressions made in regard to Miner's day at the fair show that the kindness of the operators in furnishing free tickets to their men was highly appreciated.

The soldier boys who go north all stop at Earlington. They like the town and the ways of its people—and their ice-water and other refreshments. They say, too, that it is the only town they have stopped where those who had things to sell did not ask excessive prices. The fact is that Earlington people are so patriotic they can not help being liberal.

He had $1,000 insurance on his dwelling, property.

Soldier Trains.

Three sections of soldiers trains passed through this city Monday afternoon. The soldiers were the volunteers from Iowa and were returning to their native health.

Orders were sent ahead of them for seventy-five gallons of coffee and dinner for twenty-three officers, which was supplied by Mrs. Davis upon their arrival.

The soldiers gave loud and prolonged cheers for Earlington and her citizens as the trains were pulling out. They were very thankful for the apples, grapes, ice water, etc., which were furnished to them gratis.

No a Rattlesnake.

Mr. J. T. Bailey brought in during fair week a nice specimen of petrified something which a number had concluded must be a section of a petrified rattlesnake. It excited much interest and was sent to Mr. W. A. Toombs to go in the Public Library Museum collection at the fair. An investigation proves the specimen to be a very well preserved petrification of the stigmata, the root of the well-known coal plant sigillaria, which abounded at the time of the formation of the coal beds, and is so often found in the coal measures at this day.

For Petit Larceny.

Robert Blunkall, a white boy about sixteen years of age, was arrested by Marshal Barnett Sunday, charged with petit larceny. He had been here for a week or so, and was working at the boarding house kept by the Misses Victory. Sunday morning, after receiving his pay for his work, he disappeared, as did also several things from the Victory House. When arrested he had the missing articles, and is now languishing in dungeon. He is a tramp, and claims Tennessee as his home.

A Beauty Indeed.

One of the prettiest sights ever seen in Madisonville, is the cake of ice that is at present, or that was yesterday, in the show window at Alexander's. It was manufactured by the Spring Lake Ice Co. that is doing business in this town. In the center of the cake of ice is one of the pretties bouquets that we ever saw. It was presented by Mrs. J. W. Lemore. The ice has attracted a great deal of attention.—Illustrator.

Anyone wishing to attend his concert will find a treat in store for them. It is to be an invitational affair so a fashionable audience is assured.

Col. W. A. Toombs, our "hoss editor," was in the halcyon heyday of his glory last week while in charge of the St. Bernard exhibit at the Great Hopkins County Fair. When it comes to mingling and conversing with the honest yeomanry, the artisan, the merchant, as well as the femininity, the Colonel can use the nine component parts of speech, and get there with a pedal plurality all day long.

Rev. C. C. A NEW JAIL.

Contract Let for a Modern Prison to be built at Madisonville.

MUCH ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

On Monday the commissioners appointed by the Fiscal Court of Hopkins county for the purpose of contracting for and having erected a new and enlarged county jail closed a contract with William J. Landrum, of Mayfield, Ky.

The amount of money involved is $6997.50. The new building is to be located at the rear of the city hall and the long-time eye-sore of the jail in the center of the public square will after all these years be remedied. The ribald song and general hubub that has so long adorned with ragged, dirty trimmings the busy hour of day and the time of rest and sleep that should be quiet, will be given a more secluded location, much to the credit of our county seat.

The new building will be of pressed brick and modern construction. It was designed by Mr. W. C. Morton, of Madisonville. There will be seven rooms in the residence portion. The jail will be in the rear and the present number of criminal cells will be doubled. There will be eight such cells in the new jail. In addition to this there is to be a department for juvenile, female and insane prisoners. These cells will be constructed of lighter steel and be completely separated from the criminal department. Thus new departure is a great stride in the right direction and those who are responsible for the innovation deserve the hearty thanks of all good people.

The jail portion of the building is to be entirely fireproof in construction, built of steel and concrete, so that if fire should occur there will be no danger of the prisoners being roasted before they can be taken safely out.

Returned All Right.

Considerable anxiety prevailed on "Methodist Hill" Monday, when it was learned that Jeff Murphy had been missing since Saturday, when he was last seen at the Hopkins County Fair.

A good deal of surmising as to his whereabouts was indulged in, but no satisfactory conclusion was reached until late in the day, when he returned from a visit among relatives in Crofton.

He had left special word of his intended visit, but owing to some misunderstanding, his folks did not get the message and hence the great uneasiness over his absence.

Jeff was greatly vexed over the miscarriage of his message and the subsequent trouble of his family, but such things will sometimes happen.

SERIOUSLY HURT

James Alexander Badly Clubbed by Mack Cummins at Dawson Springs Friday Night.

Princeton, Ky., August 27.—Esq. James Alexander, a prominent lawyer and politician of Hopkins county was struck with a bludgeon in the hands of Mack Cummins, a young farmer, at Dawson, last night and lies in a critical condition with the chances against his recovery. Alexander was a Marshal at the soldier's reunion, and, in attempting to clear the way to the grounds, he became infuriated and struck Cummins with a buggy whip. Cummins went back to the town, and when Alexander appeared, made an attack on him, inflicting severe wounds about the head. Cummins was arrested and placed under a heavy bond.

"A GLASS OF WATER."

Practical Christianity at Work on Returning Soldiers.

Earlington Watered Them and Received Their Sincere Gratitude.

Friday last some ten sections of a military train carried the troopers, officers, horses and total equipment of the First Illinois Cavalry through Earlington enroute from Chickamauga Park to Fort Sheridan, near Chicago, where it is probable they will be mustered out. The day was hot and the soldier boys were dusty and dry.

With the stock and baggage trains was only a detail to each of some twenty-five or thirty men and they, of course, had little trouble keeping some water to drink. But when the solid military trains came the 1300 soldiers had exhausted their drinking water and were thirsty. Early in the morning some of our citizens began to prepare tubs of ice water to refresh the soldiers. A number of these were prepared and a supply of dippers placed in the hands of willing helpers, who stood beside the tubs of pure ice-cold water and handed it to the thirsty or helped to fill their canteens. Each of the trains were served with all the pure water the men wanted or would take.

Reduced rates have been granted by the Louisville & Nashville railroad. All stations between Paducah and Henderson will sell round trip tickets on that day to Earlington at one and one-third fare, good returning September 4. A large crowd is looked for.

All arrangements have been made by the management for the complete enjoyment of a day of innocent and unalloyed pleasure at Lakeside Park and on Loch Mary next Saturday morning, afternoon and evening.

The barbecue dinner will leave nothing to be desired on the part of the partakers, and those who get hungry or thirsty after that hour will be supplied at their pleasure with delicious light refreshments at the various stands on the grounds.

The day will close with a moon-light picnic. The moon is at its best and the surroundings of the Park and Lake will furnish a beautiful setting for the occasion.

REPENTANCE AND ASHES.

One day last week George Robinson inadvertently put a lighted pipe in his pocket and hung his coat up and leisurely proceeded to business. After a short time he sought his coat to get something from the pockets and was greatly surprised to find that he had neither pockets nor coat, all having gone up in smoke except the collar and it was en route to destruction. He tests his pipe now by inserting his digit into the bowl before placing it in his pocket.
